

YOU CHOOSE

participation • contraception

About

The Contraceptive Choice Project is enrolling 10,000 St. Louis area women to better understand contraceptive choice, satisfaction and use.

You may be eligible to participate in this exciting research project. As a participant, you and 9,999 other St. Louis area women will share your unique experiences and beliefs about what is important to you when considering contraception and family planning.

Benefits

- FREE birth control for 3 years
- FREE STD testing
- FREE STD treatment
- Help others better understand contraceptive choice, use and satisfaction

Get Involved

Let a Contraceptive CHOICE Project staff member or your clinician know about your interest in being involved in the CHOICE Project. You can either speak with a CHOICE Project staff member at the clinic or you can call the number on the back of this flyer for more information.

Washington University in St. Louis

SCHOOL OF MEDICINE

Contact

If you need more information or would like to talk to someone about The Contraceptive Choice Project, please feel free to contact us. We would be happy to address any questions or concerns that you may have.

- Phone: 314.747.0800
- E-mail: Choice@wudosis.wustl.edu

Department of OB/GYN
Division of Clinical Research

Co-Principal Investigator:
Jeffrey Peipert, M.D., Ph.D.

Co-Principal Investigator:
Gina Secura, Ph.D., M.P.H.

Clinical Research Nurse Coordinator:
Jenny Mullersman, R.N., BSN

Washington University in St. Louis

SCHOOL OF MEDICINE